The Compass Group has a deep expertise in organizational sustainability, sustainable buildings, and LEED. We have consulted on over 30 million square feet of buildings. We have a wealth of knowledge in obtaining initial LEED certification, and we are market leaders in LEED-EB recertification. Our entire team is comprised of LEED Accredited Professionals, with a 100 percent certification success rate. We focus on addressing sustainability as a strategic opportunity to help our clients save money, reduce risk, and gain marketplace recognition while improving the planet.

Just as Aldo Leopold used the fate of the compass plant as an indicator of the delicate balance between the built environment and the natural world, The Compass Group helps clients to make decisions that balance their sustainability goals with their continued economic goals. With roots in Wisconsin, we thought it only appropriate to give a nod to this iconic Wisconsin prairie native.

We make sustainability easy - let us show you how.

Providing a no-nonsense approach to sustainability

LEED CONSULTING SERVICES

We tailor our LEED services to meet the needs of our clients. Our expertise is scalable from a few hours of technical consulting to full-service consulting on a single building up to entire portfolio of buildings. We generally begin projects with a LEED assessment or gap analysis, and, drawing on our extensive experience, we identify the smoothest path to certification for each client. From there, we seamlessly guide clients through the LEED process to successful certification. Our work does not stop there. We also help clients build upon their LEED success with a variety of re-certification service packages.

CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY SERVICES

The Compass Group is well versed in sustainability issues. We facilitate the development of an organization's sustainable vision and strategy. This process involves establishing a comprehensive footprint that goes beyond emissions. Understanding a client's current footprint will allow for the development of meaningful and quantifiable sustainability goals. We use a practical approach to help organizations develop a sustainability roadmap that aligns with their business strategies. We strongly believe in implementing initiatives that will have a lasting effect. This requires working closely with clients to institutionalize sustainability with appropriate policies, key performance metrics, and infrastructure for long-term success. The Compass Group believes in celebrating success and continued improvement through consistent reporting and feedback.

"The Compass Group is the go-to team for LEED Services."
